Precision Walls Promotes Osborne to General Manager

Terry Osborne to lead Nashville TN branch

CARY, N.C. (July 25, 2011) – Precision Walls, Inc. has promoted Terry Osborne to General Manager of the new Nashville, TN branch. The new office allows Precision Walls, a commercial contractor specializing in walls and ceilings, to better serve its existing client base and bolster growth in the region. They are one of the largest specialty contractors in the Southeast. Whether you are adding a door in your office or constructing a 30 story office building, Precision Walls has the solution. They are a relationship based business with a priority placed on customer service and beating schedules.

Terry, who joined Precision Walls five years ago as an estimator/project manager, brings more than fourteen years of industry experience to the position. His background includes in-depth knowledge of construction management both as a general contractor and a subcontractor. In his new role, Osborne will lead the division team and oversee its strategic planning, construction, business development and field operations. He will be responsible for cultivating strong working relationships with clients and making certain that all project expectations are met.
